Profile

Self-taught programmer, determined to evolve and driven by knowledge and new challenges.

I discovered my passion for programming eearly in 2020 when I tried to solve a problem in the company where I worked, which would be easily solved with technology. Since that moment, I have dedicated all my days to learning new technologies. After almost 1 year of constant learning, I had the opportunity to develop an Online Booking project for the company Fúria.

Eligible for an IEFP internship, I am looking for a job or internship opportunity.

Experiência

Porto, Portugal

Projecto - Freelancing Web Developer, 2021

- Built a Booking System using React and Typescript for the Front-End. Started developing the Back-End using Python with Django and built an API to serve data across all the platforms, switching to Firebase due to the simplicity. Also had to build a Back-office for Managing and Analytics with React and Typescript, Material-UI to speed up the design process and Chart.JS for the Dashboard.
